

Few Alternate Routes

Madison transportation is different

Because the lake geography prevents a full grid network, the Beltline is the only major east-west roadway between Lake Monona and Lake Waubesa and must distribute traffic to other arterials leading to employment centers. The map below shows destinations of Beltline traffic during the morning rush hour. More popular destinations are shown in red.

